DESIGN BRIEF

This contemporary glass desk is ideal for a stylish office. Derby Desk is a stunning piece of contemporary glass furniture for companies who don't want to compromise design and appearance in the office for the sake of functionality. This glass-topped desk is made from hand-crafted materials to the highest specification and is designed for the multi-purpose needs of the modern office.

Derby Desk provides a practical, highly-efficient workspace. The toughened glass desktop is robust and spacious enough for serious work, yet its clean lines blend unobtrusively, even in the most compact office areas. You can choose from four distinctive style variations in walnut, cherry, dark wenge or stainless steel to match your interior design style. And, with ten sizes of square or rectangular top, you can create a great looking work area in any size of office. The top is made from toughened glass, conforming to BS 6206A and the legs are simply attached to the top by grub screws for stability and quick, easy assembly. This contemporary glass table features Futureglass' UV bonding technique for safety and long life. Derby Desk, like other glass contract furniture from Futureglass, is a superb example of contemporary British design, manufactured in the UK. With Derby Desk, the office never looked so good.
